DATE : 06.04.2016

ORDER

1. Heard Shri V.S. Deokar, learned Advocate for the Applicant and Shri A.J. Chougule, learned Presenting Officer for the Respondents.

2. This is an application for condonation of delay which according to the Applicant is of 1 year, 5 months and 15 days.

3. The case of the Applicant is that he came to be appointed as Kotwal and when he went to report for duty on 1.10.2013, he was not allowed to do so. At that time, a fresh order of cancellation of his appointment was handed over to him. It is his case that thereafter he had been continuously trying to persuade the Respondents to let him join the duties but in vain. Another limb of his case is that his aged mother was seriously ill from 2011 onwards for which a huge bunch of medical documents came to be submitted today though there was a reference to that aspect of the matter earlier. Some of the medical documents are also of 2014 and 2015. Those documents do indicate that the lady had multiple health problems. Mr. Deokar, the learned Advocate on instructions from his client who is present in the Tribunal informs that the mother of the Applicant passed away on 20th March, 2016.

4. Another aspect of the matter is that in the OA which is yet to be registered having been blocked by the delay, there is a challenge to a publication of 26.2.2016 issued by the Respondent No.4 which is also challenged. It is not necessary for me to examine in detail that aspect of the matter in deciding this MA. But the fact remains that the said publication of 26.2.2016 has been challenged. There is a specific prayer in that regard in the OA. Mr. Chougule, the learned P.O. in stoutly opposing this application invited my attention to the fact that in the MA, no specific prayer is made in so far as that publication is concerned.

5. Now, as to the above submission of the learned P.O, I find that there are pleadings to that effect clearly made in Para 8 of the MA and without getting too much hide bound by the procedural aspect of the matter, it is very clear in my view that it is not as if the other side has been taken completely by surprise just because there was no prayer pertaining to the said publication. In any case, as far as that publication is concerned, there is no relief as such sought in this MA save and except that the said publication by itself gives him added strength to sustain his OA and as far as the challenge to the said publication is concerned, examined in isolation, there is no vice of the Bar of limitation because it came to be published as recently as on 26.2.2016.

6. Therefore, if it is found that the facts pertaining to the said publication and the other aspects of the OA are so neatly intertwined as to make it almost inseparable, I am of the opinion that in totality of circumstances, it will have to be taken into consideration.

7. In so far as the other aspect of the delay is concerned, it needs to be noted that unless there is some element of lack of diligence, there would be no delay in the first place, and therefore, the delay itself cannot always be cited to contest the issue of condonation of delay. The issue is as to whether the Applicant makes out a case for condonation of delay and as far as that aspect of the matter is concerned, one has to remain alive to the established legal position that the approach should be to advance substantial justice rather than insisting on technicality. The present facts have already been mentioned above. They are such that by no stretch of imagination can it be said that the conduct of the Applicant would be so contumacious as to make the Applicant disentitled to be heard in the OA.

8. The learned P.O. raised the issue of matter being what can be described as Division Bench matter. In my opinion, however, when it comes to the hearing of the OA, that aspect of the matter can be considered and even otherwise, it is not as if, it is an issue of jurisdiction affecting the validity of a judicial order.

9. In view of the foregoing, the delay is condoned. The Office and the Applicant are directed to process the matter further, so as to make it possible to decide the OA to be heard on merit. The OA be placed before the appropriate Bench on 18th April, 2016. The MA is accordingly allowed with no order as to costs.
